

COVID-19 Update & Plans for the Fall

To our Community Members:

As you know, the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) is still an issue for us all here in Michigan. On March 17th, MPI responded to the pandemic by moving the classroom portion of its training online. Since then, we have implemented a blended online and onsite experience for our students.

Over the last few months, MPI's administration has worked tirelessly to develop multiple contingency plans that are ready for implementation this fall to ensure our programming won't be interrupted or postponed--whatever the COVID situation may be. Students WILL be making movies.

MPI has its primary Plan A which is a blended combination of On Site and On Line Learning. It also has a Plan B which allows for all On Line learning. And finally there is a Plan C which would see us back to an entirely On Site program.

As of June 9, 2020 the Motion Picture Institute is back at what it does best; training and educating tomorrow's filmmakers and visionaries. Our intimate class sizes and well-ventilated soundstages have made it possible for us to adapt and return to schooling sooner than most.

Check out our new 1-minute video with more information for the Class of '21 along with video coverage of our current classes in action.

Enrollment for the fall is now under way for both our full-year Film Production Program and our four exciting new MPI Actors Studio workshops.

Sincerely,

Douglas Schulze
